

FAMILY FUSS AND SHOOTING BEFORE COURT

The story of a 78-year-old Cash-town area woman who her nephew and his wife arrested to gain possession of her home following a stay at the Warner Hospital was told in court this morning in the first case before the jury in the August term of court.

Mrs. Bertha M. Miller said on the witness stand that she had left her home on Mt. Newman in the care of her nephew, Clifford Powell, and his wife, Hazel Powell, Ottanna R. 1, when she went to the hospital on April 11 for an operation. Friends who went to the home to secure clothing for her return were refused the articles, and when she returned the Powells refused to permit her to re-enter the house, she testified.

Her great-nephew, Ray M. Speelman, who had resided with Mrs. Miller for the last "three or four years," testified that after his great-aunt was refused admission to her house, and he went to the home with David Mackley to secure clothing for her, Clifford Powell discharged a shotgun through a window.

David Mackley, Biglerville R. 2, who drove Mrs. Miller to her home, told the jury he had gone into the house and asked the Powells to help Mrs. Miller into her home. He said they told him that Mrs. Miller was still at the hospital, and when he turned his car around so they could see that she was in the vehicle, they told him that it was only an "image" in the car and that Mrs. Miller was still at the hospital.

Mrs. Miller said she was refused entry on April 21 and did not get into her home until the next day, after police had arrested the Powells on charges of forcible detainer and a charge of pointing and discharging a deadly weapon against Mr. Powell.

Broke Door Open
Speelman, who is a nephew of Powell, said he had resided at the Miller home since prior to the death of Mr. Miller. He said about two days after Mrs. Miller went to the hospital he went to the house, and decided to stay at his parents' home overnight. The next day he said he had to "bust open" the screen door at the Miller house to get some of his clothes.

Shot Through Window
When he went to the Miller home to ask the Powells about clothing for Mrs. Miller on the afternoon of April 21, after she had been refused entry to the house in which she was born and has resided continuously since, Speelman said the Powells refused to give him clothing, and that Powell shot through a window near the door about two feet from his head. When Powell said he was going to reload the shotgun, according to Speelman's testimony, the 17-year-old youth said he "decided to leave."

Mrs. David Mackley said she had gone to the Miller home to ask the Powells for clothing and for money for toothpaste and other articles, bearing with her a note to that effect from Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Mackley said Mrs. Powell refused to take the note and "slammed the door" in her face as she attempted to head it.

This afternoon the Powells are scheduled to present their side of the story to the jury which comprises Glenn Hoffman, East Berlin R. D.; Edgar E. Wolfe, Gettysburg; Ray Haverstock, New Oxford R. D.; Dorothy Sterner, New Oxford R. D.; Mrs. Robert Eckenrode, (Continued On Page 9)

Bloody Rioting In French North Africa May Be 1,000

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — Grim French troops and Foreign Legionnaires chased rebel bands in the Moroccan hills today as the official death toll from bloody weekend rioting across French North Africa neared the 800 mark.

Quick action restored a semblance of order in Algeria, where most casualties occurred, but violence continued in Morocco as French foot troops supported by tanks and jet planes fought back at the terrorists.

BRAWL BREAKS UNION PICNIC

A fight interrupted a picnic of the Rubber Workers' Union, Taneytown Local 468, EIO, held Saturday at the Taneytown Memorial Park, and resulted in a jail sentence and three fines being meted out this morning by Magistrate C. Rogers Hall Jr.

Joe Collins, of the Westminster area, was sentenced to five days in the Carroll County jail and fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct. He pleaded not guilty to the assault charge, and guilty to disorderly conduct.

His mother, Martha Collins, was fined $25 and costs for assault. She pleaded not guilty. Mary Jane Collins, wife of Joe, also drew a $25 fine, for disorderly conduct. She pleaded guilty.

According to reports, a quarrel broke out among the members of the Collins family. Bottles started flying, and B. Burnell Brumgard, address not given, was hit. Brumgard appeared at this morning's hearing.

The arrests were made by Trooper L. L. Dunn, of the Maryland State Police, assisted by Taneytown Police Chief Robert L. Koonz.

JACOBS FAMILY IS TRAPPED BY FLOOD WATERS

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Jacobs, 46 E. Broadway, and family were caught in the floods which devastated the Delaware Valley Friday but were able to return to Gettysburg Sunday without injury or loss of effects. But they did return with stories of a close escape from rising flood waters and a wrecked town of East Stroudsburg.

Jacobs went vacationing last Sunday, taking his family to the Village Inn, in the Poconos, three and a half miles east of East Stroudsburg. His family included his wife, daughters Ann, 20, and Eleanor, 13, and his son Steven, 17. He told this story:

"It rained hard Wednesday night and Thursday, but the first thing we knew of the danger was Thursday night. We were dancing in a building on higher ground than the Village Inn, when the lights went out about 10:30 o'clock. A man came in and told us there was 18 inches of water across the road, and those of us who were staying at Village Inn had better get back there."

Dams Had Broken
"What had happened was that the rain had filled up the nearby creeks and some of those small lake dams had broken. It was a flash flood of Marshall Creek that hit our section, not a steady rise."

"We managed to get back to Village Inn that night despite the rising waters. We took it in low gear, and luckily, we didn't stall. It was about two blocks. The water kept rising Thursday night until it was within 10 feet of our door. But we had a hill behind the hotel that we could have gone up on, so I wasn't too worried. I had a car parked on that hill. We got a little sleep that night, but not much."

"The water started receding Friday morning at about 6 o'clock. The crest had passed up, and gone on downstream. But we were still isolated in about a four or five mile area. Bridges were washed out."

Houses Washed Away

"But we didn't know how bad the flood really was until we went into East Stroudsburg Friday morning. Houses had been washed several blocks and smashed against trees. Lines of parked cars had crashed into each other, and all of them, new and old, were piled up like a junk yard. We saw some destitute people, but we didn't see any bodies. We heard there were some people killed, though."

(According to the Associated Press, East Stroudsburg was the town hardest hit by the floods in Pennsylvania.)

"Relief work was just being organized Friday morning," Jacobs said. "The Civil Defense, Red Cross and the fire company were all working together. They were (Continued On Page 5)

Flood Ravaged Areas Face Typhoid Fever And Rain Threat; Death Toll Reaches 93 As Emergency Workers Carry On Cleanup

By RICHARD GRAVES
STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A threat of typhoid fever and more rain hung over the flood-ravaged areas of northeastern Pennsylvania today.

The death toll stood unofficially at 93 but officials said they expected the final figure would be well over 100.

Antityphoid fever serum was flown into the area yesterday. By nightfall some 8,000 persons in this Pocono Mountain resort town alone were inoculated.

No Typhoid Reported

The typhoid peril tems from contaminated water supplies. In Bucks County, south of Stroudsburg, polluted water was blamed for an outbreak of dysentery. So far, there have been no reported cases of typhoid.

Brief thundershowers came last night, fortunately causing no noticeable rise in water levels, but more rain was forecast for today. Last Thursday, heavy rains unloaded by drenching Hurricane Diane started filling streams high in the Pocono Mountains north of here.

Three Are Treated At Warner Hospital

Mrs. Esther Chapman, wife of Robert Chapman, Ottanna R. 1, was treated at the Warner Hospital Sunday for cuts of the right arm suffered when a glass in a door broke.

Thomas Henry Jr., 15, a Boy Scout from Arlington, Va., was treated at the hospital for a cut of the left leg suffered while he was cutting wood.

Michael Yingling, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Yingling, R. 2, was treated for a fracture of the right elbow suffered when he fell from a porch at his home Sunday morning.

FIREMEN WILL PAY HALF OF TRANSMITTER

The Gettysburg Fire Department at a special meeting Saturday afternoon voted to pay one-half the cost of a new 50-watt radio transmitter for the Civil Defense-Firemen's radio network. The transmitter will cost $2,310.

The transmitter will replace the present 50-watt "main station" for the county's CD network here. One-half the cost of the installation will be paid by the federal government under Civil Defense matching funds, the remainder of the cost will be paid by the local firemen.

At Saturday's meeting, Fire Chief Donald McSherry estimated that the actual cost to the fire company will be less than $1,155 because the firemen plan to sell the present 50-watt transmitter purchased by the department six years ago. McSherry and others said that "we ought to be able to get $350 to $400 for the old transmitter." Several said that East Berlin firemen are interested in purchasing Gettysburg's transmitting equipment.

Cover Wider Range

Primary reason for purchase of the new radio transmitter is civil defense, according to the discussion, although firemen noted that it will also provide better communications in the event of fire.

At present, with 50-watt power in the main station, the Gettysburg transmitter will not reach a number of fire companies in the county's Civil Defense-Firemen's radio set-up. In addition three are a number of "dead spots" in the county, in which fire trucks cannot receive messages sent from the main station.

With the increased power, the local transmitter will reach all sections of the county, it was stated at Saturday's meeting. In addition the power should be sufficient, McSherry said, to keep contact with equipment sent as far away as Lancaster.

Chief Pushed Move

Such contact will be needed, it was held, in the event fire trucks or rescue equipment from the county were called to other cities by Civil Defense requirements.

At present the county's Civil Defense (Continued On Page 9)

Unidentified Motorist Causes Two Car Crash Sunday Morning When 3 Persons Were Injured

Three Cars Collide Saturday Evening

Damage totalled $225 when three cars collided Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock one-half mile south of Cross Keys on the Hanover Road, Route 94.

State police said an auto had stopped preparatory to making a left turn, George H. Darr, 45, Carlisle R. 3, stopped his car behind that vehicle. Mae E. Hockensmith, 31, Hanover, halted her auto behind Darr's car. Police said Verna J. Harris, 35, Abbotstown, was unable to stop quickly enough and her car struck the rear of the Hockensmith auto forcing it into the back of the Darr sedan.

RED CROSS IS ASKED TO RAISE DISASTER FUND

National headquarters of the American Red Cross has called on the Adams County Red Cross Chapter to undertake a "vigorous drive to secure emergency funds" so that the Red Cross can carry out disaster relief in the flood-ravaged areas of Pennsylvania and eight other states, George L. Haenn, Adams County president reported today.

Rain-swollen rivers which poured flood waters into the Northeastern states have caused a death toll of 93 persons and millions of dollars of damage. Thousands of homeless people face the threat of new rain storms and typhoid fever from contaminated food and water supplies.

Since the beginning of the havoc Red Cross teams have been in the stricken areas setting up shelters and food centers to provide for the homeless. Additional funds are badly needed to carry out Red Cross disaster services.

York Seeks $15,000

Chapters of the Red Cross throughout the nation are carrying on similar campaigns. York County Chapter has set a goal of $15,000 for flood relief.

Donations to the flood relief can be made at the local Red Cross headquarters, 141 Baltimore St. Since Pennsylvania has been extremely hard hit Haenn is hopeful that "Adams Countians will respond generously to do their part toward alleviating the tragic suffering in one of the worst floods in the State's history."

Moose Will Open Bids September 1

A special meeting of the local Moose lodge will be held Thursday evening, September 1, at 8 o'clock to accept or reject bids for the purchase of kitchen equipment, chairs and tables for the remodeled Moose home, Secretary Dewey E. Wolff announced today.

Plans for a membership campaign extending through November 1 to honor the late George D. March were also announced by Secretary Wolff. March, who served as an officer of the lodge secured more than 50 new members for the Moose during the years he was a member. The lodge is seeking to secure a class of more than 50 in his honor.

Two cars were involved in an automobile accident Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock and four persons were injured when a third car made a left hand turn in the face of oncoming traffic, state police reported, and caused the crash.

According to the officers an unidentified car was headed west on the Lincoln Highway, one-fourth mile west of here at the intersection of Lincoln Highway west with Reynolds Ave. on the Battlefield.

The car stopped on the highway preparatory to making a left turn into the Battlefield avenue. Robert Edgar Warner, 30, Westminster R. 7, stopped his car behind that vehicle.

In the meantime Melvin L. Harrison, Fayetteville R. 1, was driving east.

Missed First Car

Suddenly, according to police, the unidentified motorist made a left turn in front of Harrison. Harrison swerved to avoid striking it.

Harrison turned to the left and directly into the path of Warner's car and the two vehicles collided. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $1,000 each.

Robert E. Harrison Jr., aged seven months, nephew of the driver of the Harrison car, suffered a fracture of the left arm. Richard Harrison, 15, brother of Robert, had a laceration of the head.

Warner had a laceration of the forehead. His wife, Mrs. Helen Warner, suffered contusions of the chest, lacerations of the left hand, contusions of the back and abrasions of the right knee. She was admitted to the hospital.

The four Warner children, who were passengers in their parents' car, were uninjured. Also escaping injury were Harrison and two passengers in his car, his sister Nancy Miller, 17, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Annette Harrison, 18, mother of the injured boy.

Firemen Respond

Gettysburg firemen responded in the rescue truck, arriving before the ambulance, which was also called to the scene.

Glenn Weishaar, who with Frank Linn and Donald Staub were with the rescue truck, took the Warner children to his home until relatives arrived.

State police are continuing their investigation into the accident with the hope of finding the motorist who is charged with being responsible for the accident.

DRIVER JAILED AFTER CRASH ON ROAD IN VALLEY

One person was injured and damage totalled $930 when two cars collided Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock on the Valley Rd., about one-half mile from its intersection with the Lincoln Highway atop Mt. Newman.

State police said Ray M. Dearworf, 30, Ottanna R. 1 was driving north when his car collided with a south bound sedan operated by Clarence W. Finley, 35, Belle Vernon, Pa.

Mrs. Derwen R. Finley, 35, wife of one of the drivers, suffered lacerations and contusions of the scalp and was treated at the Warner Hospital where she was removed by a passing motorist.

Police said Finley, in attempting to avoid the collision, had driven to the side of the road, and after the crash his car continued on knocking down three sections of a fence on the property of John A. Stine, Ottanna R. 1.

Dearworf signed a plea of guilty to a charge of driving under the influence this morning before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He was lodged in the county jail in default of $500 bail, for action at sentence court August 27.

RAY E. DUBS, 14 DROWNS SUNDAY NEAR LINEBORO

Ray Earl Dubs, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Dubs, Hampstead, Md., R. 2, drowned late Sunday afternoon in Gunpowder Falls Creek, near Lineboro.

James T. Marsh, Westminster, Md., deputy medical examiner, attributed cause of death as accidental drowning.

Young Dubs, who would have entered the 10th grade at Manchester, Md., High School, next month, was one of a six-member party which left the Dubs' home in the late afternoon for the creek. Other members of the party were four brothers of the victim, Ralph, 16; Clarence, 11; Ivan, 10; Melvin, 8 and a neighbor, Ernest Martin, 9.

None Swimmers
The boys, none of whom were able to swim, the family said, were at the swimming hole along the creek only about 15 minutes when young Dubs, who was on an inner tube, disappeared from the surface.

Ralph, oldest brother, immediately endeavored to rescue his brother from the stream, which is from 15 to 20 feet in depth at some places, while other members of the party stopped passing motorists.

Firemen of the Lineboro Company, who were summoned to the scene, which is several miles from the Dubs' home, located the boy's body some 45 minutes later. An unidentified motorist brought the body to the surface about 7 p.m.

Efforts were made to revive the victim with the use of a resuscitator of Hampstead ambulance. Dr. W. H. Foard, Manchester, Md., physician, directed the recovery attempts.

Surviving in addition to his parents and four brothers, all at home, are his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Savannah Wildasin Dubs, Hampstead R. 2, and his maternal grandfather, Eugene Hiker, Littlestown.

Rev. Harvey Schlechter, pastor of Lazarus Reformed Church, will conduct funeral services Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Geipe Funeral Home, Glen Rock. Interment in Lineboro Cemetery.

"PAUSE AWHILE"

To keep abreast of things today . . . we must be on the ball . . . we should not tarry for a day . . . or it may mean our fall . . . for things are going round and round . . . at such a rapid pace . . . that one false move can mean the end . . . of treasures we embrace . . . there's little time for blessed joys . . . the price less things that count . . . for everyone is most concerned . . . to see the bankroll mount . . . so seldom do we ever stop . . . our search for shining gold . . . before we scarcely turn around . . . the years proclaim we're old . . . it's only then we hesitate . . . to gather hope anew . . . but often it is just too late . . . for life is nearly through . . . and so it is from time to time . . . we all should pause awhile . . . to shake the worry from our minds . . . and cause our hearts to smile.

Meeting Wednesday

President Ray McGlaughlin, Emmitsburg, announced today a meeting of managers of the top four teams and league officials will be held Wednesday evening at 8:30 at the Emmitsburg VFW home to make arrangements for the playoffs. He also stated that two postponed games in the league will not be played under league rules which prohibit the playing off of postponements after the end of the regular season.

Cashtown staged a story-book ending to nip Blue Ridge Summit 4-3 at Cashtown, Sunday. The Summiteers led 3-0 going into the last half of the ninth only to be nipped by a thrilling finish.

Herring Is Hero

A triple by Glenn Herring with the bases loaded, two out and the count 3-2 on the batter was the payoff blow. Fisel opened the ninth with a single. J. Herring walked and Jack Bream took over his base-running duties. Bucher grounded out to advance both runners. D. Bucher batted for Hershey and walked which brought on Slike to relieve Null, starting hurler for Blue Ridge. J. Spence bounced out, Bream scoring. Singley walked to load the bases again after which Herring rapped a long triple between center and right field to drive in the winning tallies.

Fairfield nipped Union Bridge 7-5 in a game transferred to Fairfield because of wet grounds at Union Bridge.

The winners tagged Childs for 14 hits, two each by Siles, K. Deardorff and J. Scott. Cornwell, Fairfield hurler, gave up nine hits and fanned 10.

Thurmont also won by a 7-4 count, triumphing at New Oxford.

Emmitsburg was awarded a 9-0 decision over invading New Windsor. New Windsor led 3-2 going into the last of the eighth inning when the New Windsor pitcher was ejected following an argument with an umpire. According to reports, that left New Windsor with but eight players which resulted in the forfeit.

SUDAN REBELS SURRENDER TO UGANDA GOV'T

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The Sudan government announced today that 158 mutinous troops in the south Sudan town of Yei have been captured or surrendered.

A government spokesman said the rest of the force which rebelled Thursday was holding out in the small village of Torit.

In Cairo, a British Embassy spokesman said a third group of 136 mutineers at Oraba had surrendered to Uganda authorities. He reported that radio communications had been established with the holdouts in Torit and they too were ready to consider ending their rebellion.

Yei is just north of the Uganda border and 100 miles southwest of Juba, the capital of Equatorial Province. Torit, a battalion headquarters, is 84 miles east of Juba.

Government sources insisted their forces had the situation in hand. However, all available aircraft were rushing troops and supplies to Juba, and bringing out foreigners and families of northern Sudanese troops stationed there.

It appeared the government was replacing the southern Sudanese troops with forces from the North loyal to the government of Premier Ismail el Azhari. Rivalry long has existed between the more advanced Arabic Northerners and the backward Negro Southerners. In recent months considerable bad feeling has developed between the Southern soldiers and north Sudanese officers sent to replace British officers who have commanded in the South.

Today's Talk

LOOK FORWARD

One of the last messages that Thomas Edison delivered to the world was in which he told us all to "Look Forward." This, and to have faith. Here was a man once a news boy who, through his inventions, could easily have become the richest man in the world — but he only wanted to accomplish one thing — to benefit ALL mankind, which he did!

We can't turn about and live Yesterday over nor can we safely substitute Tomorrow for Today. The one safe decision to make is to have faith, and make it the habit of one's life to "Look Forward." Then there is progress all around and the world as a whole is benefited.

Peace and good will among nations are just as possible and practical as the same among individuals. By thinking and talking war is to look backward. There never will be a Utopia but it's a nice thing to dream about! By keeping perfection in the mind we light a lot of guiding lamps along the way of life. They point us Forward.

There is nothing in this world that can't be improved. I note that one great automobile concern has taken over this idea and used it in their advertising. They call it "The New Look," but what it really amounts to is the looking forward of the entire organization. When that idea gets support there has to be progress.

Success is a succession of many a successful try. The thing that kept Edison so happy was that he was forever trying to invent scores of things that he knew could be used. Few realizations initiated solely by Edison. He cared little for money. He devoted all his time to getting useful things on the way — leaving to others the job of perfecting them. We can all "Look Forward." It easily can be the salvation of many. Think forward ideas and you will go forward! Never stand still!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Your Health." Protected, 1955, George Matthews Adams Service.

THE NEW AND THE OLD

The summer cottage beds are new.

Upon the latest stove they cook.

They have a modern ice box too.

The rooms all have the city look.

There's nothing odd upon display.

No worn and shabby dining set.

Even the chinaware is gay.

But still the bathing suits are wet.

There's nothing they have hauled from town.

No standing lamps with faded shades.

In comfort guests can settle down.

They've even slots for razor blades.

Unlike the cottage that I kept With stuff the attic used to hold;

Changed has been everything, except

The morning paper two days old.

Oh, what a difference time makes!

The merchants modern seem to be.

The butcher sells them tender steaks.

A joy that was denied to me. The stairs don't squeak and never will.

Improved is every thing, but still From morn to night the screen door bangs.

Fairfield Items: The members of the Lutheran Church of this place, by a committee of the church council, consisting of Messrs. Kittinger and Kugler, have put down a new brick pavement in front of the church, which is quite an improvement. O, ye that have no pavements or bad ones, go and do likewise, and keep your brother from stumbling.

Mrs. Dr. A. O. Scott, who has been west over a month, visiting her friends, returned home last week, accompanied by her son, Wilson, who is looking very well. The Toms Creek S. School picnic came off on Saturday last, and as far as partaking of good things, was quite a success. If you want the inner man supplied, go to Toms Creek celebration: for they always have plenty of good things. Miss Alice Seabrook was present and enlivened the occasion with sacred music on the organ assisted by the school in singing. After all, are these gatherings beneficial to the S. School? Generally a few weeks before they occur the schools are well attended; then after they are over the schools grow less in attendance.

Restoration Of Flooded Towns Begins; Death Toll Nears 200; Damage Estimated In Billions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A staggering job of rehabilitation faced flood-wrecked communities of the Northeast today as stunned survivors found the death toll steadily mounting toward the 200 mark.

The known dead already numbered 186. As additional victims were discovered, it appeared the final count would go well above this figure. Pennsylvania and Connecticut, the states hardest hit, estimated a total of as many as 130 persons still missing.

The latest count since the beginning of the floods last Thursday was: Pennsylvania, 93; Connecticut, 66; Massachusetts, 13; Rhode Island, 1; New Jersey, 5; New York, 4; Virginia, 3.

As the rampaging streams and rivers receded to normal levels, astonished citizens surveyed the heart-breaking devastation. It was so vast that only the broadest estimates of the damage could be made, but these ran to billions.

Homes were wrecked or completely gone. Factories were damaged, some beyond repair. Bridges were down and roads washed out, with asphalt surfaces churned up.

Health Hazards Threaten

Health hazards were a major problem. Flood survivors in most places were ordered to boil drinking water. Emergency antityphoid serums were flown into isolated communities by helicopter.

Dry ice was an emergency item and supplies were commandeered to refrigerate vital food supplies where regular refrigerators were still without electric power.

On top of all their other problems, many flood survivors looked ahead to an uncertain future with their regular jobs gone, at least temporarily.

Some buildings that first appeared to have survived the floods were found so weakened that they had to be condemned.

In Torrington, Conn., once a thriving industrial city of 28,000, dozens of stores were smashed and factories put out of order. Bridges were gone and vital supplies were flown in by helicopter using a schoolyard for an emergency landing field.

Floods And Fires

The flood took three lives there and left many others homeless. Emergency aid stations were set up to house and feed the victims.

Normal life was brought to a standstill in Putnam, Conn., where floods and uncontrollable magnesium fires had combined to wreck the town.

"We're done. This valley is dead," a veteran textile worker commented to an Associated Press reporter who managed to get to the stricken community.

The worst single tragedy occurred where Broadhead Creek swept over a summer vacation camp and carried away 40 persons, mostly women and children. Nine persons survived to tell of the horror when the flash flood collapsed a building in which the campers had sought refuge. The others were dead or missing.

Dams Collapse

Broadhead Creek, fed by torrential rains and the collapse of mountain dams, rose 25 to 30 feet within 15 minutes. It devastated parts of Stroudsburg, a Pocono Mountain resort center.

Fortunately, most other camps in the flood areas were above the torrents, or the campers were able to reach safety without major tragedy.

Among these were 80 youngsters from a camp at Bantam Lake, Conn., who were fished from the floods Friday by motorboats. Relieved families welcomed them back to New York yesterday after fathers and uncles formed a motor caravan to bring them home.

One father hired a helicopter and flew into an isolated camp at East Stroudsburg to bring out his two children and four others. Except for being cut off by impassable roads, things were "completely normal" with the camp and its 400 campers, he reported.

No Drinking Water

The first repair efforts went to restore utilities and open roads into the flooded districts. By yesterday many places at last had electricity and gas again and telephone circuits were opened. Drinking water was still a general problem, however.

Most railroads were operating through the flood sections but in many cases had to skirt hard-hit cities and avoid weakened or washed out bridges.

The Lackawanna Railroad, which serves New York, New Jersey and flood-stricken areas around Stroudsburg and Scranton in Pennsylvania, has restored service on some of its lines. Major repair work, however, will hold up the return of trains to Stroudsburg and Scranton.

In western Massachusetts scores of highways were still blocked. Two communities, Charlton and Southbridge, could be reached only by boat or helicopter. Southbridge was still without gas, water or power.

The big crisis was over in New York state, but damage estimated at many millions remained, particularly at Port Jervis and Ellenville.

President Is Gratified

Flood reports were relayed to President Eisenhower, on vacation in Colorado. He was "highly gratified" over the rescue work and aid the armed forces were able to render.

States designated by the President as disaster areas and entitled to federal aid in repairing flood damage were Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

For most of the weekend the sun shone brightly over the flooded areas. Brief thunderstorms hit New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts last night but added no new flood threats.

YANK FARMERS HEADING HOME FROM RUSSIA

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (P)—The U. S. farm delegation to the Soviet Union headed homeward today advocating more such exchanges of visits between Americans and Russians.

"They have the most to gain by exchanges now, but later we might gain considerably," said the leader of the group, Dean W. V. Lambert, of the University of Nebraska Agricultural School.

The party of farmers, educators and newsmen arrived in Berlin by plane yesterday after a month's tour of Soviet farmlands in Russia, the Ukraine and Siberia. They split up for a few days, some flying home directly and others stopping in other West European cities.

"Made Some Friends" Dean Lambert said he was sure "we made some friends in Russia and the tension we first felt when we went there did not exist when we left."

"Similar exchanges would be desirable to break down the barriers," he continued. "These people are tremendously isolated, and anything we can do in this direction would be helpful."

The Americans left behind a frank, 14-point program for improving Soviet agriculture. They recommended that the Russians use more machinery and less central control, and that they seek agreement with the United States for an exchange of experts and technical publications.

Moscow radio said today that the Soviet government greatly appreciated the visitors' criticisms of its agricultural methods.

GIRL KILLED, 5 HURT IN CRASH

MONTGOMERY, Pa. (P)—A 16-year-old girl was killed and five other teenagers were injured when the car in which they were riding apparently went out of control and crashed a few miles west of this Lycoming County community.

State police PFC. Clifford O'Neal said Leona Ann Koch, 16, of Montgomery, was pronounced dead on arrival at Muncy Hospital yesterday.

Others injured were: the victim's brother, June 14; Donald Hoffman, 15, Turbotville, Northumberland County, fractured leg; David S. Thomas, 16, of Muncy R.D. 2, driver of the car; and Connie and Ronald Bartlow, 16 and 13 respectively, of Montgomery. Connie is in critical condition in Muncy Hospital.

The others suffered slighter injuries.

O'Neal said the car was rounding a curve when Thomas apparently lost control. Dr. Earl R. Miller, county coroner, said the girl died of a fractured skull.

RUSSIANS WILL SEEK HUGE GRAB FROM ADENAUER

BONN, Germany (P)—The Soviet Union is expected to make a play for a bigger share of West Germany's industrial output during Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow next month. Many West Germans see little prospect of booming commerce resulting, however.

German officials and industrialists believe Russia's vital need for foreign manufactures was one of the motives behind the surprise invitation to Adenauer to meet with the Kremlin's leaders.

The Russians held out the lure of a "large trade turnover" if Moscow and Bonn established normal relations. The Soviets said prewar trade between Russia and Germany amounted to one fifth of all the foreign trade for both countries.

Bonn officials believe Russia's need for machinery and machine tools is increasing as the Kremlin shifts factory workers to farms to cope with the agricultural crisis. Scandinavian newspapers report that the Soviets intend to offer Adenauer an 800-million-dollar annual trade exchange. The Germans believe Russian diplomats inspired these reports.

German industrialists long have clamored for the removal of political and economic restrictions on trade with the East.

Exports to the Soviet bloc now total less than 5 per cent of West Germany's shipments abroad. German industrialists take a gloomy view of their chances of recapturing the former Eastern markets because:

1. West Germany's factories are stretched to the limit to fill the demands of Western and home markets.

2. There is an apparent shortage in the Soviet Union of the commodities the West wants.

3. The Russians have had a marked tendency to fall down on deliveries to the West when trade agreements have been made.

So many good things to add to a salad of tossed greens to make it extra special! Here are some of them: chopped green onions; crumbled, crisply cooked bacon; crumbled blue cheese; crisp croutons browned in garlic-flavored olive oil; finely cut anchovy fillets; sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives.

REDS TO FREE YANK DOWNED IN NEUTRAL ZONE

SEOUL (P)—Air Force Lt. Guy H. Bumpas, of Jackson, Miss., is scheduled to recross the line to freedom tomorrow after six days as a prisoner of the Communists.

The injured airman will be turned back to the United Nations Command at a point about 12 miles east of Kumwha, on the Central Korean Front, not far from where his plane was shot down by Red antiaircraft fire last Wednesday.

He will accompany the body of Army Capt. Charles W. Brown, of West Louisville, Ky., who was an observer-passenger in his small unarmed plane.

Brown was killed as a result of the crash, the Communists claim. Bumpas suffered a possible skull fracture.

The Army will have a big helicopter and a doctor standing by to meet him.

The Communists yesterday told Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied delegate to the joint Military Armistice Commission, that Bumpas appeared to be in good condition.

Parks flushed with anger as he talked about the incident in the demilitarized zone.

The Communists charged the plane was spying on their installations. Parks said all evidence pointed to the conclusion that Bumpas was hopelessly lost.

Parks declared that Brown was "murdered by a gang of trigger-happy gunners who profess to be upholders of peace, staunch defenders of the armistice agreement, and ardent humanitarians."

He said he personally interrogated eyewitnesses to the incident. He warned that Allied troops, which so far have refrained from shooting at Communist aircraft which accidentally fly over United Nations lines, may soon resort to retaliation. "It may be difficult," he declared, "to maintain this one-sided control" in the face of constant Communist abuse.

Baby Accidentally Electrocuted

MONTGOMERY, Pa. (P)—Ricky Gray, 13 months old, was accidentally electrocuted in his Lycoming County home here when he came in contact with the bare prongs of an electric cord extension.

State police PFC. John Ricketts, said the child was playing with the cord connected to the electric supply when it apparently fell apart and he touched a bare prong of the extension.

Dr. Earl R. Miller, county coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death.

SUNBURY, Pa. (P)—Jordon E. Wolse, 83, a lay preacher of near here, died yesterday soon after being struck by a car on Rt. 11 in Hummel's Wharf, Snyder County.

Suggestions to Exhibitors

All entries should meet the requirements of the class in which they are entered. If any doubt should arise the Committee should be consulted.

Flowers for the exhibits should be prepared by soaking in deep pails of cold water several hours previous to opening of the show.

Inferior flowers will not win a prize.
Buds, faded flowers or injured foliage should be removed in the specimen flower classes before staging.

Endeavor to use plenty of foliage of the flowers themselves.
All flowers in Flower Divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7 will be judged on quality and perfection of growth.

Addition of foreign green will not be allowed.
In addition to the classes listed below, a separate class will be made for any annual or perennial, if there are three or more entries in that class.

The Lane: Ideal Large Family House

Rooms — Seven
Bedrooms — Four
Bathrooms — One
Cubage — 18,800 ft.
Dimensions — 31' x 22'

The young married couple also might like to build "The Lane" because it is the type of home that can grow along with the family's needs. Since the first floor can provide complete living facilities, it is not necessary to finish the second story at the time the house is originally constructed. Until the second floor is completed the dining room can serve as a bedroom; the living room can do double duty as a combination living and dining room.

With overall measurements of 31' x 22', "The Lane" has a cubage of 18,800 feet. Therefore, the house can be built on a 55-foot lot. Although no garage is specified in the plans, you can have either a detached or attached garage constructed by making arrangements with your contractor. Whether you plan to have a garage built at the same time as the house or at some future date, be sure to provide a large enough lot.

Two windows, one in the front wall and another in the right wall make the 11'4"x11' dining room pleasant and well lighted; should you use this room as a temporary bedroom you'll appreciate the cross ventilation from these windows. Throughout "The Lane" the abundance of windows make this a bright and cheerful home.

In the all-modern kitchen there is a roomy breakfast nook where the family can easily eat lunch and even dinner if the housewife prefers to have her dining room set and her "best" table service for more formal occasions. The spacious broom closet, where you can keep

U.S. AND ALLIES WILL TEST RED PEACE SINCERITY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and its major European allies are working on a series of proposals to test Soviet peace intentions and expose any phony Russian propaganda.

The proposals will be put into operation in a series of important international conferences during the next several months.

These include the United Nations subcommittee on disarmament meeting in New York Aug. 29; West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's scheduled visit to Moscow Sept. 9; and the four-power foreign ministers' meeting to open in Geneva Oct. 27.

Smiles, Gestures
So far the Soviet change has been displayed mainly in smiles and gestures such as a recent party which Premier Bulganin gave for diplomats at his country estate near Moscow and the decision Saturday to let three Americans long imprisoned in Russia return home.

At the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee meeting the United States will press Russia to accept President Eisenhower's proposal for exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection as a basis to develop a worldwide disarmament program.

There were weekend indications the aerial inspection program could be expanded to include U.S. military bases overseas if the Soviets are willing to trade information of equal value to this country.

Hopeful, Not Optimistic

Eisenhower's advisers are hopeful but not optimistic. They believe that if Russia turns down aerial inspection and insists on restricted ground inspection as in the past, it will mean that Moscow's present leaders are no more prepared than was Stalin to join in effecting a system of international arms reduction control. Adenauer's talks in Moscow will take up German reunification, the return of German prisoners still held in Russia, and trade and diplomatic relations. The Russian position on these topics will be of unusual significance in judging Russia's policies.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia will meet at Geneva for a broad range of negotiations on disarmament, German unification, European security and measures to remove the Iron Curtain. American officials are determined to confront the Russians with a series of concrete propositions there.

PAID SKIN DIVER

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Dale Harry is skin diving for pay in the laying of a mile and a half of pipe on the bottom of Crab Orchard Lake.

The pipeline will be floated on barrels and slowly sunk. The project engineer, Buddy Powers, figures Harry can dive and free the barrels. He will also make an underwater inspection tour of the pipeline route across the bottom of the lake before the welded line is installed.

all types of cleaning supplies and equipment, and the movable counter which can be moved out of the way when not in use, are two sure-to-be-appreciated features of this well-planned kitchen.

Larger in size than the conventional lavatory, the one in "The Lane" can easily hold a shower, if you care to have one installed. Should you plan to live on the first floor until the second story is completed, you'll find this larger lavatory especially welcome.

In the full cement basement of "The Lane" the heating plant should be under the living room; the laundry should be located under the kitchen or lavatory.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans for this home are available; one set, $12.75; two sets, $19.35; three sets, $25.80. Address requests (mentioning name of home) to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. GE, 87 Weybosset St., Providence, R. I. Send check or money order or plans will be sent C.O.D. A complete home owner's kit and contractor's kit will be included at no extra cost.

Seeds Sown In Summer Take Special Treatment

In hot weather make seed drill deeper, soak soil below it, and cover seeds with special porous soil mixture.

Without "succession sowings" of lettuce, carrots, beans and other short harvest vegetables, home gardeners will have none to harvest during the last half of the season.

When the time comes to make such sowings the weather is usually hot and dry. The methods used in the spring, when nights are cool, and moisture plentiful, may not serve. Too many amateurs give up on this problem too soon. It is easy to solve, by using special techniques.

The chief requirements for success are moisture and a porous soil covering for the seed. At 90 degrees, surface soil is sure to be dried out to a depth of two inches or so. When seed is sown, without providing for moisture artificially, it simply lies dormant in the powder dry soil, until a rain comes, and then the seedling may be baked to death before it rains again.

If there is clay in the garden soil, the summer sun will bake it to a hard crust between showers, and the seed sprouts may not be able to penetrate it, so they are buried alive in infancy. All this can easily be verified by any gardener who sows seeds in hot weather without taking due precaution, and observes carefully what happens to his seed.

There is no mystery about it, and the way to success is a common sense one. To begin with you soak the soil in which seed are to be sown several inches deep. The soil is stirred deeper than in the spring and if the seed is to be sown in rows the drill is made deeper, two inches at least. The seed is sown on the moist soil, and covered with a special soil mixture in which there

One fisherman is aided up side of U. S. Mrs. Berchard had just witnessed drowning of her older child, Patricia Ann, about three, when rescue boat in which they were being taken to safety from their flooded home capsized. This dramatic picture was taken by Robert Ficks, photographer of the Hartford Courant.

Smoke still rises from Metal Sellers Corp., Putnam, Conn., Sunday whose three-story plant was set afire Saturday as turbulent waters of the Quinebaug and French rivers rushed around the structure, and washed out roadway approach to the bridge. The downtown area was badly flooded, preventing firemen from reaching the fire.

Compelled to detour 25 miles, then pick their way across a railroad line toppled by floods, National Guardsmen from a Pennsylvania company move into flood-ravaged East Stroudsburg, Pa., Sunday. The huge rocks, foreground, were washed through rail trestle by waters of the Brodhead River which residents said went up 25 to 30 feet "in 15 minutes."

This aerial view of Brodhead Creek, shows how it swept upwards in a surge of fury and wiped out Camp Davis, a religious camp situated on what was considered high ground in center of photo, near Stroudsburg, Pa. Only a remnant of foundations remain and can be seen in lower center of this photo, taken early Sunday morning and looking south toward Stroudsburg. Route of stream now makes it appear that center of area is actually an island, which normally was not the case. At least 31 campers were swept to their deaths. Only nine were known to have survived.

COURT COSTS CAUSE DISPUTE

A dispute on the question of who is to pay court costs has revived a case considered settled over a year ago. Attorneys for both sides presented briefs on the matter Saturday before the Adams County Court.

The case was the action in assumption which Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. filed against Hazel S. Gaston, Kathryn D. Gaston, and the Gettysburg National Bank, as guardian of the estates of Evelyn Valerie Gaston, and Sandra Louise Gaston, in which an interpleader was asked to hear the claims to the insurance benefits of the late John R. Gaston.

The action concluded with the court ordering payment by the insurance company to the bank, as guardian of the two girls, of $1,138.94, less costs. The company now claims that it is entitled to deduct its own court costs and attorney's fees, while the defendant disputes that claim.

Grants Petition In Insurance Action

Judge W. C. Sheely granted the petition of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York Saturday, for an interpleader in the action in assumption which Blanche Foltz, R. 5, has brought against it. The court also directed Edna F. Hershey, New Oxford, to file her complaint as an additional plaintiff.

Blanche Foltz and Mrs. Hershey are both claiming the proceeds from the insurance policies of the late Laban E. Hershey, and the company has asked for an interpleader to decide who is to get the benefits. A similar petition was granted last week in Blanche Foltz' action against the New York Life Insurance Co.

fense network is maintained through relayed messages. Gettysburg's main station cannot reach Fountaineau or East Berlin. To send messages they must be relayed from Gettysburg to Littlestown or McSherrytown and rebroadcast to East Berlin or Fountaineau. Because of a "valley" between Littlestown and Fountaineau, it can more readily reach that community with its 60-watt transmitter.

The need for a 250-watt transmitter at Gettysburg was first presented at a meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs Association last winter. The fire chiefs petitioned the county commissioners to secure Civil Defense matching funds for such an installation.

Some Objections
At first the commissioners considered paying one-half the cost through county Civil Defense funds, but objections from some other fire companies led the commissioners to abandon that idea, and the Gettysburg firemen were told that if they felt there was still need for the more powerful equipment that Gettysburg would have to pay the local share of the cost.

At Saturday's meeting some objections were raised to Gettysburg paying for equipment that will be used more for county needs than for local needs, but following the discussion the firemen voted unanimously to purchase the new transmitter.

President Richard M. Cole presided at the meeting.

building, called the Winter House, at Camp Davis as the floodwaters crept higher. She gave this description of the last horror-packed minutes before the building began to float into the stream and crumble.

"It just began to sway and grind and everybody went. We all grabbed what we could and hung on as well as we could. I must have floated a mile downstream and things were bumping into me all the time and hurting me. But there was nothing I could do. I can't swim.

"About a mile down the creek I bumped into a tree and hung on. I've never climbed a tree before in my life but I certainly climbed that one."

Clung To Tree

Two fingers of her left hand were injured and one was almost cut off as she clung to the tree all night.

"They told me I had been on the tree for nine hours, most of it with my head under swirls of water. I remember a searchlight being played on me during the night but little else."

She was rescued the next morning by two men in a motorboat with a powerful engine.

Before the building collapsed, she said, the campers were singing and praying.

"We took food and water up there but we never really dreamed anything would happen — we couldn't think that."

Miss Doris Ann Cover, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Cover, McSherrytown, became the bride of Francis Leon Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Raphael Smith, Hanover, Saturday, at 9 a.m. in the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church, McSherrytown. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony in a setting of colored gladioli.

Francis Carbaugh, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Bernard Henry, organist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard E. Cover, McSherrytown, the bride wore a gown featuring a fitted bodice with a V-neck cascade trimmed by iridescent rainbow sequins. The long sleeves, which ended in tapered points over the covered buttons. The nylon net and slipper satin skirt was fashioned with an apron skirt of rosepoint lace in the front and ended in a net and slipper satin cathedral train in the back. Her crown of nylon net and rosepoint lace was trimmed by iridescent sequins and white pearls matching the cape of her gown. The bride carried a pearl prayer book topped by two white orchids, white carnations and showers of white satin streamers.

Reception Is Held
The maid of honor was Miss Gloria Small, McSherrytown, who wore an aqua strapless ballerina-length gown of lace and net with matching stole. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Similar style gowns were worn by the bridesmaids who were Mrs. Thomas Groff, sister of the bride, in pink; Miss Rose Marie Smith, in powder blue, and Miss Dianne Smith, cousin of the bridegroom, in coral. They carried white straw basket pocketbooks with colored carnations. Floral headresses were worn by all the attendants.

William J. Smith, Hanover, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Ronald Smith, Hanover, cousin of the bridegroom, and Edward deCheubel, Hanover. After a reception for about 200 guests in the school hall of the church, the couple left on a trip to the Pocono Mountains. The bride chose as her going-away outfit a gray and white pin-striped suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Smith, a 1953 graduate of Delone Catholic High School, is employed by Bowman's Cleaners. Her husband, who graduated in the same class is employed by Carl T. Benninger, builder. The couple will reside at 344 North St., McSherrytown.

HELICOPTERS DO GREAT JOB IN DISASTER

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The work of military helicopter units in flood-ravaged northeastern Pennsylvania drew a "splendid job" comment today from disaster workers.

The Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard aircraft have been everywhere. They've delivered food and medical supplies, rescued the living, recovered the dead and transported rescue teams all over the grim vacationland.

The craft have proved useful in support missions in war, but in the peacetime disaster here they have, perhaps, proved their greatest worth.

In an area where almost every bridge has been knocked askew or washed away, almost every rail line torn up, transportation would be primitive were it not for the helicopters.

Many Korean Vets
To go by mobile transportation overland in some instances you would have to travel a rugged, circuitous route of 20, even 50, miles to go between points only a quarter mile apart.

But the helicopters can set down anywhere—and have.

Many of the military pilots are Korean War Veterans. Commented one weary pilot:

"This is more rugged than any duty I ever saw in Korea."

They've picked people out of trees, off isolated islands and other flood-threatened vacation spots. It was Navy helicopter pilots who brought back the bodies of the victims of the worst single tragedy in the floods—the obliteration of Camp Davis north of here.

Friday, Army helicopters retrieved between 180 and 200 children from two island camps in the Delaware River.

Save Mother, Baby
One helicopter flew a mother and newborn baby—born by candlelight in Stroudsburg Methodist Church Friday night—to the East Stroudsburg Hospital, Stroudsburg, though only a feeble stone's throw apart, are completely cut off from each other.

The helicopters have been using the Stroudsburg State Teachers College football field, 100 yards from the East Stroudsburg Hospital, as a landing base to bring in the dead and injured.

The helicopter airlift is being coordinated by the Army command at the Tobyhanna signal depot, about 20 miles northwest of here. The planes also refuel there.

Three helicopters have suffered minor damage in crashes.

No accurate figures were available on the number of aircraft and pilots involved in the helicopter airlift.

A Navy source at the Johnsville Naval Air Development Center north of Philadelphia said there were 30 Navy and Marine pilots operating nine Navy craft.

STRIKERS RIOT
striking city employees roamed Singapore's streets today, stoning garbage trucks and assaulting temporary workers keeping sanitary services in operation. Police arrested 11 strikers.

Some 10,000 city employees walked out last Wednesday, demanding higher wages and pay for time they were out on strike last summer.

POW INQUIRERS RAP IGNORANCE OF YOUNG GI'S

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Every once in a while the American educational system gets rapped on the head for failing to give the youth of the country a sufficient grounding in democracy.

The latest rap comes from the special committee of government officials and retired officers which studied the problem of American prisoners of war captured by the Communists in Korea.

This committee blamed the armed forces for not preparing their men while in service for what they faced later when taken prisoner: the indoctrination and propaganda tactics of the Communists.

But the committee said: "The prisoners of war (who were taken in by the Communists) had lost their battle before they entered the service. Good citizens—loyal Americans—the responsibility for their building lies with their home, the school, the church, the community."

The committee suggested government agencies get together with civilian educational institutions, churches and other patriotic organizations to prove better understanding of American ideals.

The committee frankly said the Communists "made fools" of some American POWs and "tools of others" with their indoctrination tricks and propaganda when they held up communism as the salvation of the world and Karl Marx as mankind's benefactor.

Knew Too Little
"Many of the POWs," the committee went on, "knew too little about the United States and its ideals and traditions. So the Chinese indoctrinators had the advantage."

Some of them, asked to tell what they knew about American politics and history. Found out their Chinese captors knew more; some didn't know what the Communist program was all about; some had never heard of Marx.

To set up a system of educating young Americans in democracy on the broadest possible scale—not only in college but in grammar and high schools—may call for a major overhauling in American education.

Need Political Philosophy
How can a young man be taught—not with clichés and slogans but with solid historical reasons—to prefer democracy to fascism or communism and be able to defend it?

Most students, somewhere between grammar school and college, get some instruction in political science. But that's machinery: how a government operates. The Americans teach one kind of political science, the Russians another.

But political philosophy—the story of man's struggle through the ages to shake off absolute rule by a king or group and stumble toward democratic rule—can give a youth a solid base for his preference for democracy by giving him a basis for comparison and an understanding of political opposites.

It seems safe to say a very tiny percentage of youths who go to schools in this country get a grounding in political philosophy.

Wonder About Decision
As they looked, they wondered whether she had made her decision—upon reaching the constitutional age set in the Royal Marriage Act—to wed handsome Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 40-year-old war hero and divorced father of two sons.

Before she was 25, Margaret could only wed with permission of her sister, as titular head of the Church of England, which frowns on marriages involving a divorced person whose spouse is still living, the Queen would have found it difficult to give her consent.

Few actually expected Margaret to make known the dictates of her heart on her birthday. Should she decide to marry Townsend, she probably would tell her sister, then notify Parliament.

Bundles of telegrams and letters from well-wishers all over the world poured in to the castle's special post office for Margaret.

At lunch, the Queen toasted her sister in champagne and in the afternoon there was a quiet family tea party on the castle lawn.

The Rio Grande River, which forms the international boundary between the United States and Mexico, is approximately 2,200 miles long.

General Electric

Turns Farmer In Ohio

WEST UNION, Ohio — When an industrial giant steps into a rural area, it may do some of the garb of the farmer. Since starting its 5,000-acre jet engine testing center in Adams County, General Electric has become conservationist, forester and tobacco farmer.

Company officials decided to bring the land back to its best as an example of what might be achieved under sound conservation and reforestation.

"We are sharecropping the tobacco acreage at the site," says Robert D. Knies. "We are going to plant hay on cultivated hilltop land that has been eroded badly."

Fire lanes have been cut on existing timber areas. Other areas will be planted to trees.

DON'T FORGET DOG

NORFOLK, Va. — The fire department has urged people to keep fresh water available for their dogs. Every time a fire truck is washed firemen note crowds of dogs drinking from the curbs.

18 IN ONE CAR

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The sheriff's office said a sedan stopped by a deputy yesterday contained the driver and 18 passengers, 16 of them children. The car was stopped for speeding.

EISENHOWER TO BE BRIEFED ON GENEVA MEET

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, refreshed after a Rocky Mountain fishing trip, today awaited arrival of a key government official for a first-hand report on the Geneva atoms-for-peace conference.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was expected to arrive here either late in the day or this evening. He headed the American delegation at Geneva.

He may report to the President tonight or aboard Eisenhower's private plane tomorrow.

The President will interrupt his work and play vacation then for about 36 hours to fly back East. Strauss will accompany him.

To Address ABA

In Washington, Eisenhower will get a briefing on the international situation from Secretary of State Dulles, stay overnight at the White House, then go on to Philadelphia Wednesday to address the American Bar Assn. convention.

After the speech he will return to Washington to pick up Mrs. Eisenhower and then travel back to Denver by plane, arriving Wednesday evening.

The President got back to Denver early last night from a five-day rest at the Rocky Mountain ranch of his old friend Aksel Nielsen. He motored the 70 miles from Fraser, Colo., on the western slope of the Continental Divide, through very heavy Sunday traffic in 2 hours and 15 minutes.

He was accompanied by his 7-year-old grandson David, who also vacationed at the Fraser ranch. On arrival here the youngster got a hearty greeting from his great-grandmother Mrs. John S. Doud, at whose home the President and David are staying. She is Mrs. Eisenhower's mother.

Eisenhower was ruddy with sunburn and appeared to be well rested.

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—A housewife returned from vacation, picked up the Hickory Daily Record and saw a forecast of immediate and drastic relief from the heat.

The area was to be relieved with a two-inch snowstorm. The explanation: a Record subscriber had requested an issue published last January.

The carrier boy dropped it at the wrong house.

This picture was snapped at a recent meeting of a Farm Bureau Insurance Policyholder Advisory Committee meeting in Pittsburgh. This is an experiment in business democracy. Local committees like this one meet annually to have their say about what they like and don't like about their Companies' activities. The experiment works. This month and next there are 300 Policyholder Committees meeting in 300 communities.

Imagine Farm Bureau Insurance taking the advice of us policyholders in changing the company name!

Can you imagine a big insurance company taking the advice of us policyholders on such an important matter as changing its name? Well, that's the way things are done at Farm Bureau Insurance . . . and we like it. For 29 years it has been our Companies' goal to give every policyholder a chance to have his say about company affairs.

Why change our name?

Lots of people like this democratic way of doing business. That's one of the reasons why Farm Bureau grew from a handful of Ohio farmers to more than two million policyholders in 13 states.

Now more people want to join with us. Policyholders who have moved to other states often write back to the home office to ask why they can't buy our insurance there.

But the simple fact is, although we have always had the benefit of Farm Bureau claims service in every state, our Companies couldn't use the Farm Bureau name everywhere. In some states there are already "Farm Bureau" companies. So to avoid confusion our companies had to take a new name, even though it means giving up one which to many of us is like an old friend.

We have our say

At a policyholder meeting the reasons for changing our name were fully explained. The name that has been chosen, and the one which the company-wide Policyholder Advisory Committee was glad to approve is—

NATIONWIDE INSURANCE

So on September 1st the name Farm Bureau Insurance will be changed to Nationwide Insurance.

This isn't the first time we policyholders have "had our say." For example, we suggested the bridal policy that may be used to pay wedding expenses. We passed approval on "package" policies that provide protection for the whole family . . . and the budget plan to ease premium payments.

New name . . . same company

Now our management—after consulting with us—has made the big decision to change our name. That's proof enough for us that the cooperative spirit of our Companies won't change with our new name.

Our low premium rates will remain the same. Our policies will guarantee us the same benefits as before. Our Nationwide representative will be the same straight-from-the-shoulder advisor we've come to count on.

The big difference is that now all of us policyholders will have a stake in a business which will become Nationwide in name and sales service, just as for years we have been nationwide in our claims service.

Advisory Committee of Policyholders

An invitation to you

"When you really want to find the answers to people's needs—just go ask the people," says Murray Lincoln, Farm Bureau Insurance president. That's why we have the Policyholder Advisory Committees. Representative policyholders are chosen by our agents in more than 300 districts. These policyholders then elect representatives to a regional and then a Company-wide Advisory Committee which meets annually in Columbus. Here the policyholders "tell us" what their needs are and suggest how we might fill those needs. If you'd like to participate in one of these meetings—or if you're not already a policyholder and think this is the kind of company you'd like to deal with—just call your Farm Bureau representative. A warm welcome awaits you!

On Sept. 1st the name Farm Bureau Insurance of Ohio will change to . . .
